Dear members, educators and students of the ITI/UNESCO Network, dear colleagues, dear friends,

This is our seventh day of the Online Second Student Festival of the ITI/UNESCO Network.

On this last day, the ITI/UNESCO Network is presenting the Student Conference with the title “Theatre in and Beyond the Time of Covid-19”. This Conference gives voice to the Students. The first part of the Conference is dedicated to the theme “How the students experienced the studies during the period of pandemic”, the second part explores “How the students conceive the performing arts of the future.”

I cordially invited you to participate in the Student Conference. If you are interested, please register here: www.iti-unesco-network.org/participationform.html

See you soon!

Preface
The enormous impacts brought by the COVID-19 since the beginning of 2020 are still in the hearts and on the minds of the performing arts community. The pandemic is challenging all professionals to reflect on the situation of the performing arts – and it is challenging the students too. Many institutions of the ITI/UNESCO Network have launched artistic and educational activities online; Many experts and scholars have expressed their views on the development of performing arts in this pandemic in live discussions or conferences. But what about the viewpoint of the students? The intention to create a Student Conference during the Online Second Student Festival. The Conference will show

- what the next generation of performing artists and future educators conceive to be necessary
- what questions does the next generation have,
- what visions they own and what thoughts and ideas they want to share.
arts – now and in future.
If the format of this Conference is of benefit to the participating students and educators, there will develop a second edition.
